Who do we share the information we collect about you with?

Sharing with third parties

We may share your information with selected third parties, in order to offer services to you or to perform any necessary functions on our behalf. This may include:

- Your relatives, executor or guardians (on your behalf where you are incapacitated or unable) or other people or organisations associated with you such as your insurance broker
- Where you have named an alternative contact (such as a relative) to speak with us on your behalf. Once you have told us your alternative contact, this person will be able to discuss all aspects of your policy (including claims and cancellation) with us and make changes on your behalf
- Our insurance partners such as brokers, other insurers, reinsurers or other companies who act as insurance distributors

- Other third parties who assist in the administration of insurance policies such as another insurance company if there has been an accident which requires a claim to or from that insurance company
- We may share the personal information of any persons named on the policy with third parties to obtain information which may be used by us to inform its risk selection, pricing and underwriting decisions
- Other third parties you have asked us to engage with
- Claims administrators
- Solicitors
 - To manage legal cases brought against us or on our behalf

Disclosure of your personal information to a third party will only be made where the third party has agreed to keep your information strictly confidential and shall only be used for the specific purpose for which we provide it to them.

We may also share your information with:

- Search engine operators who can assist us in the improvement of our website
- Prospective buyers, in the event that we sell any business or assets

- Regulators and other authorised bodies, whenever we are required to do so by law We believe that such disclosure is necessary in order to assist in the prevention or detection of any criminal action (including fraud) or is otherwise in the overriding public interest.

We may also share your information with other insurance industry databases.

Claims checks

We may share your information with organisations that can check your claims history.

What is our approach to sending information overseas?

We may send your data outside the United Kingdom (UK) if we are required to do so for a joint data controller (for example if an insurer is based overseas).

We seek to ensure that data which is processed on our behalf as data controller is retained within the UK but this is sometimes difficult (for example a UK supplier may have a server based outside of the UK).

If we make a transfer of your personal information outside of the UK we will take the required steps to ensure that your personal information is protected. Such steps may include placing the party we are transferring information to under contractual obligations to protect it to adequate standards.

How long do we keep personal information for?

We will only keep your personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfill the relevant purposes set out in this Privacy Policy and in order to comply with our contractual, legal and regulatory obligations.

We have implemented a Document Retention Policy which records of details how long various types of information should be retained. The Policy is reviewed on a regular basis to ensure that it aligns to current legal and regulatory requirements. The retention periods vary depending upon the circumstances of an individual matter but in general our retention periods for customer facing documentation can be set out as follows:

Quote information - 3 months (unless marketing consent received from you in which case 13 months)

Policy documents - 7 years from cancellation of policy

Claims documents - 7 years from date of last settlement/order

Complaints - 3 years from the complaint being resolved or the policy retention period whichever is the longer

If you would like further information regarding the periods for which your personal information will be stored, please see the contact details outlined in the "How to Contact Us" section below.

Automated decision making

Fraud prevention

We use computers to automatically run fraud and money-laundering checks which helps us to decide:

- Whether someone might pose a fraud or money-laundering risk
- Whether their behaviour is similar to that of known fraudsters or money launderers
- Is inconsistent with information we already have about them
- If we think they are hiding their true identity

Auto Renewal

We will ask you when you purchase your policy if you would like to opt in to auto-renewal. However, even if you opted in at this point, you have the right to opt out at any point.

What marketing activities do we carry out?

You are in control of whether we can use your personal information for marketing. We are committed to only sending you marketing communications that you have clearly expressed an interest in receiving.

When we engage with you, we will ask you (on our website, by email or when we speak to you) whether you want us to contact you with marketing information that we think might interest you and if so by what method (email, phone, post, SMS). Depending on the options offered and that you select the marketing could be about:

- Our products and services,
- Products or and services from selected third parties.

We may send this information to you directly or via third parties such as search engine operators and marketing companies on our behalf. If you wish to unsubscribe from marketing then you may do so at any time by following the unsubscribe instructions that appear in all marketing communications. Otherwise in respect of marketing from us, you can always contact us using the details set out in your policy documentation to update your contact preferences or details. Although this will stop marketing communications we will of course continue to send you service related (non-marketing) communications where necessary.

Please note that there is no personal information used in our online ad campaigns so you will need to check your browser or social media settings to avoid seeing these.

Your rights

Under data protection law you have certain rights in relation to the personal information that we hold about you. You may exercise these rights at any time by contacting us using the details set out in the "How to Contact Us" section of this Privacy Policy.

Please note:

- In some cases we may not be able to comply with your request (e.g. we might not be able to delete your data) for reasons such as our own obligations to comply with contractual, legal or regulatory requirements. However, we will always respond to any request you make and if we can't comply with your request, we will tell you why.
- In some circumstances exercising some of these rights (including the right to erasure, the right to restriction of processing) will mean we are unable to continue providing you with cover under the policy and may therefore result in the cancellation of the policy. You will therefore lose the right to bring any claim or receive any benefit under the policy, including in relation to any event that occurred before you exercised your right of erasure, if our ability to handle the claim has been prejudiced. Your policy terms and conditions set out what will happen in the event your policy is cancelled. For some policies no refunds will be payable on cancellation, for other products a refund may be payable.

The right to access your personal information

You have the right to access a copy of the personal information we hold about you and certain details of how we use it. There will not usually be a charge for dealing with these requests.

The right to rectification

We take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and up to date. However, if you do not believe this is the case, you can ask us to update or amend it.

The right to erasure

In certain circumstances, you may ask us to erase your personal information.

The right to restriction of processing

In certain circumstances, you are entitled to ask us to stop using your personal information.

The right to data portability

In certain circumstances, you have the right to ask that we transfer any personal information that you have provided to us to another third party of your choice.

The right to object to marketing

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time.

The right not to be subject to automated decision-making (including profiling)

You have a right not to be subject to automated decision-making (as described above) and where automated decision-making is used in the assessment of your application or fraud prevention, you can contact us to request that any declined decision is reconsidered. If you want to opt out of automatic decision-making, let us know, although in some circumstances it may mean we can't offer you a quote or policy as some automated decisions are necessary to provide your insurance policy.

The right to withdraw consent

For certain uses of your personal information, we will ask for your consent. Where we do this, you have the right to withdraw your consent to further use of your personal information.

The right to lodge a complaint with the ICO

You have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) if you believe that any use of your personal information by us is in breach of applicable data protection laws and regulations.

More information can be found on the ICO's website at: www.ico.org.uk/concerns.

Making a complaint will not affect any other legal rights or remedies that you have.

How we protect your information

We want you to have confidence in how we use and hold your data. We know that to achieve this we must preserve the security and confidentiality of your personal information. We have therefore developed a range of organisational, procedural and technical security measures designed to protect your personal information from unauthorized use or disclosure. Examples of some of these measures include:

- User and privileged account management including appropriate policies for password complexity, length and history
- Auditing of system users and administrators
- Regular backup schedules and disaster recovery environment for key systems and services
- Secure file transfer methods are used to encrypt data
- Usage of data loss prevention tools within the Group
- Data breach detection: Security tools in place to detect unusual or abnormal activity
- Data breach investigation: Audit and logging tools used to investigate any potential or reported breaches
- Data breach response: A plan that pulls together our compliance, legal and IT security teams to ensure rapid assessment and mitigation of data breaches

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We keep our Privacy Policy under review and it is updated periodically. For example, those changes may be due to government regulation, new technologies, or other developments in data protection laws or privacy generally. You should check our website periodically to view the most up-to-date Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on: 2nd July 2021.
